President's Message

The dog days of summer. After looking out my window seeing it raining, I looked at the extended forecast and saw 80s to 90s with 50% thunderstorms for the next 10 days! At least our yards are starting to grow again after the dry June we had. The Montclair Mako Swim Team finished well at the end of the year with several personal best swims at Divisionals and All Stars!

We also had a great Fourth of July Picnic & Pool Party! Our pool manager Linda and the lifeguards decorated the pool up for a great day. It started off with a great time with the little kid events before lunch and then we had a great feast! Sadly when lunch started to finish up we had an early light show with some heavy rain. Some of the brave weathered the storm for the show must go on! After the storm we ended up having a great time with the t-shirt relay, watermelon tussle, and big splash contest! The large water slide was a big hit for the kids and we will definitely have that showing up again. Lantz, thanks for the great idea!

Lantz thanks for all that you do, from pitching in and encouraging our pool manager by helping with vacuuming after a long battle with algae, to being there to get things done when they are needed. Also thank you for keeping up with our speed sign tracker and finding off duty police officers to patrol our streets and help keep our neighborhood safe. I always enjoy hearing your wisdom and giving me another point of view at our board meetings.

I hope you all enjoy the last month of summer before school starts back up in August.

Gardening IN MONTCLAIR

with Suzanne Thomas, Master Gardener

August in Montclair means that we are past mid-summer but the heat continues to be intense, humidity is high, and sunlight is very bright for long hours. So, enjoy the early mornings and the evenings, but continue to shelter inside during the mid-day hours (10 a. m. - 7 p. m). My puppy, who is now 18 months old, considers early mornings his time to walk out. I sit on the kitchen steps, pull on socks and shoes, and a sweat band. He dances around me to hurry up the process, then at last I dress him in his harness, collar, and leash. We stop for a plastic bag in case of a poop event, I grab a hat, and then I open the back door and we burst outside—or at least, he does. I hang on tight and shut the door for about an hour's walk around our gorgeous neighborhood. Once again, I am grateful for the beauty, for the way you keep your property neatly groomed, and for the sidewalks that let us walk safely. Come walk with us! 6:30-7:30 either a.m. or p.m. is a great time to walk.

Drought From January through July, Richmond County had from 6.0 to 10.0 fewer inches of rain than normal. Accumulated precipitation was 22 inches less than normal, according to georgiaweather.net precipitation charts. Fruit trees, ornamental trees and shrubs died from a combination of the drought and extreme heat conditions. July's rain relieved a difficult situation. This winter when lost plants are replaced, select those known to withstand drought and heat, such as crepe myrtles. A quick check on google shows multiple references including gardening with native plants and drought resistant plants.

Garden supplements August is the time to supplement vegetables to support their production. Plants respond well to the following recipe: 2 cups of 10-10-10; 6 cups of composted cow manure; 1 cup of dolomitic lime; ½ cup of Epsom salts; 3-4 shovels full of commercial garden soil. Mix thoroughly and apply to the area around the plants, avoiding the stalks. Hand water from a hose to send the mixture to the plants' roots where it is needed. Later, top this treatment with long acting fertilizer such as Osmocote (10-10-10 coated pellets).

Lawn care Experts tell us to fertilize in May, July, and September. If you wisely hesitated to fertilize in July during the drought, early August would be a good time to treat the lawn. Water deeply once a week. Deep =1 inch in a tuna fish can in the area watered. That same mixture used for the garden would probably make the lawn smile as well but I will go with the soil test.

Planting for Thanksgiving dinner If you want to have collard greens ready for your holiday dinner, plant sets in late August to early September. Also consider cabbage, lettuce, beets, turnips, spinach, onions and garlic. These cool season vegetables start life at the end of summer.

Farmers' Market
Augusta Locally Grown augustalocallygrown.org has a well established online farmers' market that is open from Friday noon to Sunday at 5 p.m. Pick up is Tuesday afternoon or you can have foods delivered to your doorstep for a very reasonable price. The Eighth Street Saturday market (8 a.m. – 2 p.m.) has produce, breads, crafts, and more. The SC State Farmers' Market is located in Gastonia, a few miles east of Columbia off I-26 and worth the trip! Love those summer veggies and peaches!! Enjoy summer.

COURTS NEWS

Pickleball courts are on track to add an additional $30k to our budget. Did you know, this revenue has helped fund park projects and repairs, like the recent plumbing and bathroom updates at the pool, bridge update in the fall, and other planned improvements at the pool?" Without the revenue generated through pickleball, these upgrades would not be possible!
