President's Message

Hi neighbors! I trust everyone made it through the first month of the year in flying colors!

Unfortunately, that pesky ground hog has announced another six weeks of winter...would be nice if he is wrong!

The next couple of months will see several activities. To kick it off, the Blood Mobile will be at Winding Wood Park Saturday, March 4. Everyone is invited to participate to further those in need. Additionally, we will have food trucks in March and April.

April will also see the Annual Community Yard Sale and Community Cleanup Day. We welcome any residents of Montclair to participate and help. This is the time we do the major annual cleanup and trimming at both parks and the pool.

On that note, please help keep our community beautiful and attractive for everyone by remembering to attend to your yards and trash.

Pool and swim team season is coming up fast! Those that are interested in lifeguard and concession jobs should contact us. Information will be posted on Indeed, our website and our newsletter.

I want to give a shout out to Wes Hopkins, our Treasurer, for updating our current technology and making interaction with the community easier and more efficient. Wes strives very hard to make everyone's experience as seamless and simple as possible while continually looking for ways to improve neighborhood communications.

This continues to be a very productive start to the new year, and I am excited for the continued progress for the improvement of the community.

David

Gardening IN MONTCLAIR

with Suzanne Thomas, Master Gardener

March is the time to plant early spring and summer vegetables. Provide protective coverings when the forecast is below 37 degrees. This year consider buying some new electric garden tools, such as a handheld, short electric saw for limbs too thick for the lopper. If you haven't yet pruned the crepe myrtles, get that done before they set new leaves and flower buds. Winter shrubs that have finished blooming, such as sasanquas, can be trimmed now without damaging them. Look for signs of winter kill and trim back dead stems, leaves and branches from vines, trees, and shrubs. Enjoy the fruit trees blooming now—plum, pear, and apple. If you want to begin an orchard, it is not too late to plant a fruit tree grown in a 5 gallon bucket, but not a bare root tree.

March and April are times of great activity in Augusta gardens. On March 26, from 4-6, plan to have a free tour of Pendleton King Park's gardens (1600 Troup Street). Docents will provide information about each of the seven gardens. This is a great family outing and it's free, so bring a picnic and walk through this beautiful site while you learn about the history of Augusta from the Revolution through the current time.
